A baby koala has been saved in a daring, possibly world-first medical procedure at an Australian wildlife sanctuary. The male joey koala, named Hermit, was just two days old and looked like a pink jelly bean when he was transferred from his sick mother's pouch into a healthy, surrogate* mother's pouch to live and grow until he was old enough to survive on his own.

Malana is an ancient Indian village in the state of Himachal Pradesh. This solitary village in the Malana Nala, a side valley of the Parvati Valley to the north-east of Kullu Valley, is isolated from the rest of the world. The peaks of Chanderkhani and Deo Tibba shadow the village. It is situated on a remote plateau by the side of the torrential Malana river, at a height of 2,652 metres (8,701 ...

When did all this happen? The Earth was formed approximately 5 billion years ago. The roots of the ancient mountain range that now lies at the bottom of the Grand Canyon were formed about 1.7 billion years ago.. There is then an unconformity of about 450 million year in which the rocks are missing.
