Feelings Bean Bag Toss. Set up the Feelings Mats on the floor using painters tape or duct tape to keep the mats in place. Call out a feeling. The child then tosses the bean bag to the feeling you called out. Another option is to have the child toss the bean bag on a random feeling and then have them tell about a time they experienced that emotion or give examples of things or situations that ...

Please note: Before I go any further, the safety of your baby should be of the upmost concern. Please remember that with this activity you are giving a younger child a plastic bag filled with gel and other small items. Not traditionally what we would think of as a "toy" for a baby. Do not leave ...

Imagine that every time you needed to read something, you had to lift a piece of glass the size of a mirror to your face. That was the best solution that humankind had come up with for vision problems before the 13th century, when some enterprising folks in Italy shrank the glass and heavy frames enough that they could finally be worn on the nose. A while later, Spanish eyeglass makers came ...

Theory. Attachment therapy is a treatment used primarily with fostered or adopted children who have behavioral difficulties, sometimes severe, but including disobedience and perceived lack of gratitude or affection for their caregivers. The children's problems are ascribed to an inability to attach to their new parents, because of suppressed rage due to past maltreatment and abandonment.

If you're like most people, chances are you have too much stuff in your home. Approximately 10 percent of all American homes rent an additional storage unit to keep all that stuff we think we're going to need, but never end up using. In fact, even with all that storage space we're renting, the average American home still packs a staggering 300,000 items.
